Yours sincerely,
Dr. Sundara Raj. T
Organizing Secretary

A research work counts when it is properly communicated. Hence writing down the research work is as important as undertaking the research. It is often seen than good scientists are poor writers, and often many scientists do not like to write. This may be because they seldom got a chance to undertake a formal course in scientific writing. Graduate students often try to imitate the style and approach of their seniors and professors. But many of them often fail miserably as they end up in copying the prose and style of the authors. This workshop is intended to help the students to write academic papers with high probability of being accepted for publication in standard magazines and other periodicals. This workshop aims to acquaint the participants with the efficacies of research and create avenues to adapt appropriate methodology in their academic writings. Thus, it is an effort to promote and develop research capabilities among young researchers in social sciences.

The objective of the workshop is to develop research capabilities among young scholars and students and to convert the research work into publishable material in the form of journal articles and books.

TOPICS TO BE WORKED ON:

1. Writing seminar Papers
2. Research Articles
3. Research Proposals
4. Ph.D Thesis

Who can attend?
